With the increasing proliferation of communication devices and advancements in technology; being able to maintain a high level of service and reliability is placing a greater strain on Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) resources. In addition, the emergence of NG9-1-1 is transforming the traditional PSAP into a complex data center requiring staff to handle and process much larger volumes of data. Having witnessed these potential challenges, Solacom developed a reporting and analytics application called Guardian Insights to assist PSAP staff to better plan and manage their workloads.

Guardian Insights was specifically engineered to serve the unique needs of the public safety community operating in a 9-1-1 environment providing them with a smarter, more efficient way to make data-driven decisions. The interactive, NENA i3-compatible Guardian Insights delivers a robust, comprehensive, reporting capabilities to individual local PSAPs, multi-tenancy deployments, regional PSAP consortiums and state/province nationwide systems.
